Spotlight on Bulterys House:

Bulterys House is a 6-bedroom, 4 ½-bathroom, wheelchair accessible home for those requiring overnight (and longer) stays while receiving medical treatment in Dawson Creek.

Each of the 6 private bedrooms is tastefully decorated and comfortable.

The house boasts a shared kitchen and eating area, two lounge areas, shared laundry, and a playroom.

Bulterys House is operated by the Dawson Creek Society for Community Living, on behalf of the South Peace Health Services Society. Please visit <https://dcscl.org/bulterys-house/> for more information and to learn how to book a stay.

In operation since March 2023, Bulterys house has welcomed guests from, but not limited to, Fort St. John, Chetwynd, Tumbler Ridge, Fort Nelson, and Taylor. Several guests have traveled with a companion and / or children. On-site parking is available. Located close to the hospital, it's a great place to stay.

South Peace Health Services Society Initiative: Locum House

Short-term residence for locum physicians and other visiting healthcare providers and specialists is available at the Locum House. This one-bedroom, one-bathroom home has been operated by the society since August 2023. Like other Society recruitment and retention initiatives, the goal of this facility is to improve access to healthcare services within the South Peace.

Acknowledgements and Accolades

Thanks to the ongoing generosity of Bannister Ford Dawson Creek and Bannister GM Dawson Creek, locum physicians have transportation while they serve the community. Bannister provides and maintains two vehicles that are used by visiting healthcare providers. What great community partners!
